

Cultivating Creativity in Survivorship Workshop – April 18, 2015
Facilitated by Marissa Perez and Dava Gerard, MD,
from The Cancer Center at Presbyterian
Poetic Phrases Created by the Attendees

Faith is being truly life through wisdom and clouds.

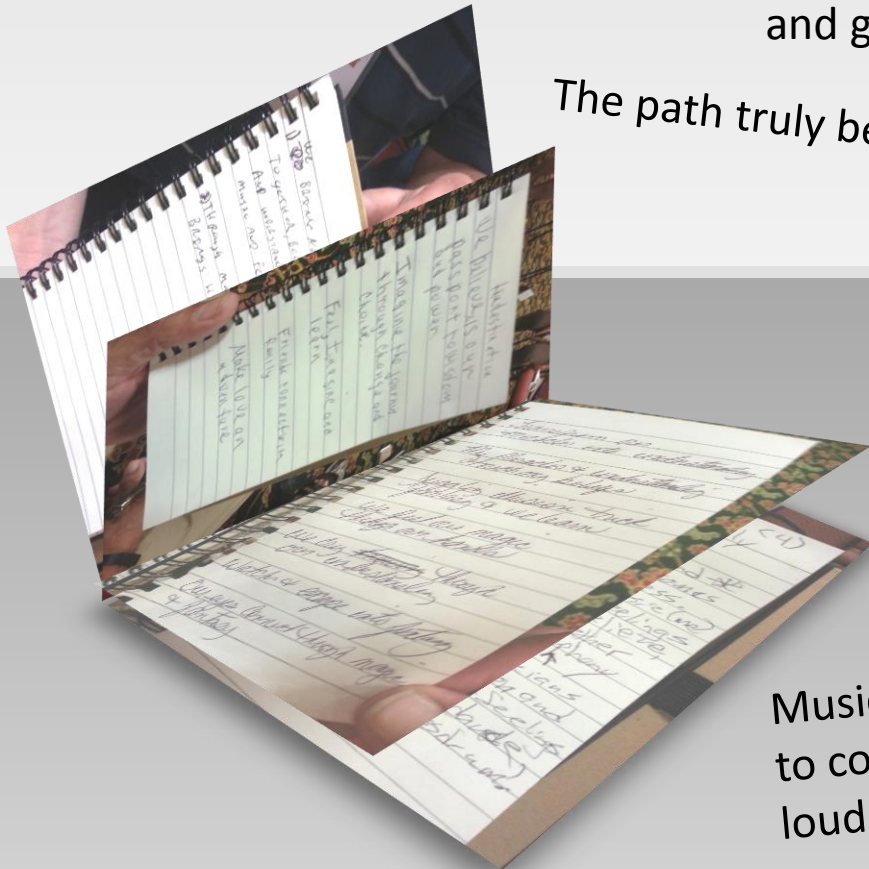

The flexible rivers and mountains truly become life and gratefulness.

The path truly becomes life if we love.

Soft music and we dance through feelings.

To see, listen, hear, believe,
we bring harmony together and understand the symphony.

Musicians bring notes of emotion and accompany to connect feelings through soft music, dance, and loud jazz and bass drum.

Cultivating Creativity in Survivorship Workshop – April 18, 2015
Facilitated by Marissa Perez and Dava Gerard, MD,
from The Cancer Center at Presbyterian
Poetic Phrases Created by the Attendees

We understand our lives through the growth;
seasons of rain, wind, and clouds.

Watch and escape into fantasy.

I trick my rabbit into my hat and then watch our eyes connect our understanding.

Transform our miracles into understanding.

My miracles and understanding touch my beliefs.

Juggling illusion, trick, fantasy...and we learn.

We feel our magic through our hands.

We cry through our understanding.

Our eyes connect through magic & fantasy.

Cultivating Creativity in Survivorship Workshop – April 18, 2015
Facilitated by Marissa Perez and Dava Gerard, MD,
from The Cancer Center at Presbyterian
Poetic Phrases Created by the Attendees

We learn through seasons of growth: trees, leaves, sun, and rain.

Imagine the journey through change and choice.

Imagination, understanding, believe in miracles.

We believe the destination is our passport to wisdom and power.

Friends, connection, family.

We bring notes of harmony together because we believe and understand.
To connect brings music
and feelings to light.

Make love an adventure.

Through music and dance...
brings harmony.

Cultivating Creativity in Survivorship Workshop – April 18, 2015
Facilitated by Marissa Perez and Dava Gerard, MD,
from The Cancer Center at Presbyterian Poetic Phrases Created by the Participants

Learn love and wisdom with adventure.

The destination is imagination and travel.

We make family and friends and the journey changes.

Our power is through wisdom and love of family and friends.

See the choice of adventure through power.

*Crying through understanding we feel the power of love.
Imagining through companionship,
we see the destination
of wisdom and power.*

